Then Our "New Peoria" Is What You Want

It has perfect working discs, fitted with dust proof chilled rings, single draw bars that will not gather trash, staggered ke wheels with 7-inch hub and 3-inch tires, continuous rear with truss rod to support seat and keep drill from sagging, direct pressure in rear of disc; a feature we claim will make his drill work perfectly in any land suitable for sowing grain and where other drills cannot be operated. A seat in center of drill convenient to lever is also furnished. Drop in and let us show you what this drill can do, and furnish you with the names of a score of satisfied users. One feature of our drill that puts it in a class by itself and makes it superior to all other drills on the market is the "Peoria Disc Shoe." You won't find the disc shoe on any other press drill on earth, the Peoria people have that feature cinched and they are going to hang on to it. If you want to know why we can grow more wheat to the acre after this drill than any other with the same amount of grain sown, come in and let us explain to you the
"New Peoria Disc Shoe Drill."

DR. N. W. TRACY

What the Press Has to Say of
This Noted Speaker

As a platform speaker he is easily the superior of Murphy. His personality is more striking, and his bearing before an audience is far superior. Indeed there is no comparison between the two. Dr. Tracy has the advantage in every way—in the range of subject matter treated, in power of persuasion, in discrimination, in marshaling of facts, in logical argument, in the dealing of sledgehammer blows against the foe he fights.—The American Issue.

Dr. Tracy is truly an orator and has a store of convincing stories—both thrilling and ludicrous.—The Norwich (N. Y.) Sun.

Dr. N. W. Tracy's monster tabernacle was literally thronged last night. Long before time for the services to begin every available seat seemed to be occupied, and yet they kept coming until standing room could not be found.—Lafayette (Ind.) Morning Journal.

He is earnest, logical, eloquent and entertaining.—Christian Witness.

He has a fine command of the English language, and his word painting of incidents
illustrative of his lecture is simply marvelous.

BIG DAMAGES

John Johnson Given an $8,-
000 Verdict in the Circuit Court

Yesterday in the case of John Johnson against the C. & O. Railway, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, awarding him $8,000 damages.

It will be recalled that in 1909
Johnson, while en route to his work, being employed as a workman by the defendant, was run down by a C. & O.
train in the East End and lost both of his legs by injuries sustained.

In the first trial in September, 1909,
there was a hung jury.

In the second trial in December, 1909, the plaintiff was given a $3,000 verdict. The case was taken to the Appellate Court and the cause sent back to the lower court for a rehearing on the grounds that the judgment given plaintiff was flagrantly against the evidence.

This is the third time the case has been tried in the Mason Circuit Court.
The case, no doubt, will again be taken to the Court of Appeals.

In the serviceable colors the new suits demand.
Cut on the straight close lines present styles prescribe.
The silk has no dressing, it is as soft and pliable as kid.

NEARSILK AT $1

Black only. The sturdy hard-wear skirts made for constant service. Cut on the same stylish lines as silk skirts. Both regular and extra sizes. The slender-est or stoutest woman can be sure of finding her size in these serviceable skirts.

MESSALINE AT $2.50

Black and colors. The skirts are finished with a pretty ruffle that looks full but really does not add a superfluous inch to the width. All skirts cut on patterns of the latest mode.

TUB SKIRTS AT 50c

Neat stripes. Fast colors. Easily laundered.
Many fastidious women insist on wash skirts for street
wear even in winter. These skirts are even more practical for winter service than muslin petticoats and can be tubbed as satisfactorily.

W. H. Taft. J. B. Sherman.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN.

FOR CONGRESS,
HON. HARRY BAILEY.

George Ade declares that side whiskers are coming back into fashion. Whiskers on many of Ade's jokes are also the proper thing.

It's a gloomy outlook this expected war with Mexico and President Taft laid up with a game leg. It looks like the Greasers are taking advantage of us.

Ain't it funny. Although the Maine election showed a gain of 15,000 Republican votes over the last election, yet the Lexington Herald says Vansant says he's well pleased; Ted declares its his victory and Taft is in great good humor over the result. Its a happy situation that pleases everybody.

It appears that only three "insurgent" Republican United States Senators have gone over to the new Progressive party. They are Dixon of Montana, Clapp of Minnesota, and Poinexter of Washington. Several of the other "insurgent" Senators still claim to be loyal to the Republican party.

The bidding of political parties for the support and votes of woman suffrage leaders does not seem to work to the advantage of any one party. Some prominent leaders are for Taft, some for Roosevelt, and others for Wilson; so there you are. At the primary election in California the women voters were as much divided in their preferences as the male voters.

It is stated that there are 600,000 negro voters in the Northern and Southern border states, and it is supposed that this vote may be a considerable factor in deciding the Presidential election. Probably no one party will get all of this vote, and we know of no reason why the Democratic party should have any of it, as it has eliminated the negro politically wherever possible.

It will be noted that the tariff plank in the "Progressive Party" platform, declares for "a protective tariff which shall equalize conditions of competition between the United States and foreign countries, both for the farmer and the manufacturer, and which shall maintain for labor an adequate standard of living;" and also for "the immediate repeal of the Canadian reciprocity act."

The disgraceful fact is recorded, that when the important vote was taken in the House, on August 13, on the question of repassing the wool bill over the President's veto, sixty Republican members were absent. Probably a few were necessarily absent, but the larger number were attending to private business or shirking responsibility, and neglecting their public duties. Fifty more Republican votes would have defeated the two-thirds' vote necessary to repass the bill:

The people are just as calm over being denied the opportunity to rule as when Mr. Bryan first called their attention to it.

The more the Democratic candidate crowds the Tariff to the front in the coming campaign the more effective opposition he will encounter and the more interesting the fight will become.

The Ohio voters seem to have declared in favor of every one of the proposed amendments to the constitution except the one giving the women the privilege to vote. How rude Ohio men are.

When the workingman in the United States discusses what he calls "cost of living," he measures by a standard which the toilers of other countries could not form a conception of if they tried.

The free trader declares that that is the wisest policy which tends to create more wealth for distribution among the people. Measured by that test protection is incomparably the best of all fiscal methods.

The numerical strength of trades unions has been greatly overstated. Recent reliable statistics show that in the United States only 3 per cent. of the population are members; in Canada 2 per cent.; in Germany 4.1; in Great Britain 5.4; in France 2.5, and in Austria 1.4 per cent.

The consumer in Canada has a preference for American goods in many instances, only for the reason that he recognizes in them the things that he wants. British goods that have gained a foothold in Canada retain their ground without difficulty against the American importation.

The foreign trade of the United States during the fiscal year 1912 was greater than ever before, reaching the grand total of approximately $4,000,000,000. And yet the free trade papers will probably go right on asserting that our protective tariff is killing our foreign trade.

COINCIDENCES.

William L. Wilson, the author of the infamous Wilson law of 20 years ago, was a college professor and was born in Virginia. Woodrow Wilson is a college professor and was born in Virginia. To those who remember the lean and hungry years when the Wilson law was in force, the coincidence of name, birthplace, profession and political principles have a sinister aspect.—Bth (N. Y.) Courier.

BRIGHTER AND BRIGHTER SKIES.

The outlook for phenomenal prosperity does not depend solely upon the country's voluminous crops nor altogether upon any purely American elements and conditions.

The fact is that England, Germany and France are enjoying unparalleled activity, while in Asia and India there is a rising tide of prosperity.

This means that American foodstuffs and manufactures will be called for in extraordinary quantities during the next two years.

Wise men will take this fact into account and govern their operations accordingly. If an extraordinary internal demand for the products of the American soil and American factories is to be reinforced by an extraordinary demand from abroad this country will presently be in the midst of the greatest period of prosperity in her history.

WHERE THE CASH IS COMING FROM

Women Work at Night to Finance Roosevelt Campaign.

AWFUL FACTORY CONDITIONS

New York State Investigating Committee Found Pale, Worn Women Working in Twine Manufacturing Concern Owned by the International Harvester Company.

Awful conditions have been found by the state factory investigating committee of New York in the mills of the Osborne Twine company, No. 3, at Auburn, N. Y., owned by the International Harvester company, of which George W. Perkins, chief financial backer of Theodore Roosevelt in his scheme to ruin the Republican party, is a director.

"The appearance of the women workers in this plant," said a member of the committee, "was very disheartening. They were worn and pale and their clothes, faces and hands were covered with oil and hemp cloth. Many of these women, so called, are only children in age and they have to lug huge piles of hemp, weighing 150 pounds each, across the floor, the load in some cases being bigger than the women themselves. In the spinning room, where women are employed alone, to the exclusion of men, who would have to receive higher wages, the clatter of machinery is so frightful that a voice below a shriek cannot be heard. The rooms are dark, though for no necessary cause, and no attempt is made to remove the dust, which is kept in constant motion by the line shafts despite the requirements of the law. This dust is breathed continuously by the women, many of whom complain of chronic coughs and colds. The dust and dirt are so thick upon the clothes of the girls that at the noon hour—which in many cases consists of but a few minutes—labor at the close of the day's or night's labor, the girls have to sweep each other clean with brooms."

It is further stated that the custom of working the women all night is permanent, married women being selected for night work, their hours being from sundown until 6:30 o'clock in the morning. Of 400 women employed in the mills, 200 work all night.

When George W. Perkins was asked by a New York Times reporter for an explanation of the conditions in an establishment of which he is one of the directors, he made, in part, the following remarkable reply: "This night work has been rendered necessary largely because of the government's perfectly unreasonable attitude toward large corporations, which has made it impossible for managers of large concerns to know whether they were on foot or horseback, whether they could expand their plans to keep up with increasing demands or not."

The late Mark Twain in his brightest moments never uttered anything more grimly humorous than the foregoing explanation by George W. Perkins of why the company of which he is a director is working women all night under the frightful conditions disclosed by the New York state factory investigating committee.

Meantime it ought to be of interest to millions of Republicans throughout the United States to know where the money comes from to finance Theodore Roosevelt in his campaign of "rule or ruin."

BOUGHT HIS SOCKS IN SCOTLAND.

Governor Wilson is a free trader and is so recognized by the rank and file of his party. The truth is emphasized by little by the fact that he buys his socks in Scotland.

His apparent indifference to the condition of American laborers may be due to his ability to get along without being obliged to eat bread in the sweat of his brow.

He has been extremely fortunate in this respect. His autocracy has been deeply tinged with aristocracy during his entire career as an educator and dabbler in literature.

He has neither by personal experience or observation acquainted himself with the actual struggles and needs of the ordinary wage earner.

During the trying times that this country was under the blight of free trade in 1894, '95 and '96, Woodrow Wilson was enjoying a liberal income that was in no degree affected by the deplorable conditions surrounding the laborers in this country.

Mr. Wilson is not to be condemned for his good fortune. On the contrary, we should be disposed to congratulate him, but in self interest the less fortunate should protect themselves against the enforcement of his tariff theories and policy, a trial of which has been given more than once with deplorable effect upon the industrial life of this country.—Penton Gazette.

WELL DESERVED

THE PRAISE THAT COMES FROM THANKFUL MAYSVILLE PEOPLE

One kidney remedy has known merit. Maysville people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Maysville testimony proves it reliable.

Frederick Dressel, 1233 East Second street, Maysville, Ky., says: "Since I used Doan's Kidney Pills in 1908, I have not had kidney trouble. All that I said at that time praising this remedy still holds good. I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and I had a severe pain across the small of my back which interfered with my duties. When a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at the Wood & Son's Drug Store. They gave me prompt relief and I know that they are an excellent remedy."

TOBACCO GROWERS TALK 1913 CUT-OUT

Owen County Has Had Meeting

Other Counties May Follow

M. H. Bourne, in Owen County News-Herald. Tobacco growers from various sections of the state are talking strongly of a cut-out of the next crop. Owen county growers have already had one meeting, and the sentiment in that county is almost unanimous for the movement.

Influential men from Woodford county and Scott county have given their hearty approval to the proposition. Many Fayette growers said it was the only thing to do if the farmers expected a reasonable price for their crops.

It is pointed out that the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse Company is planning to own all the loose leaf markets, and their control is regarded as a dangerous menace to the trade. The trust is as much in evidence today as it was before the government attempted to dissolve it. There is little or no competition today in the Louisville and Cincinnati branches into which the old American Company was dissolved, and prices have gone steadily downward since last March.

Friends of the farmers realize that if the cut-out movement is to be successful, it must be agitated now before the 1912 crop has

Women

From Forty-Five to Fifty Are Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The "change of life" is a most critical period in a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason.

When her system is in a deranged condition, she may be predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of some organ. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly healed by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

These symptoms are calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance and the cry should be heeded in time.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared to meet the needs of women's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis.

Mrs. Estella Gillispie

ONE CASE OUT OF MANY TO PROVE OUR CLAIMS.

St. Anne, Ill.—"I was passing through the change of life and I was a perfect wreck from female troubles. I had a displacement and bearing down pains, weak fainting spells, dizziness, then numb and cold feelings. Sometimes my feet and limbs were swollen. I was irregular and had so much backache and headache, was nervous, irritable and was despondent. Sometimes my appetite was good but more often it was not. My kidneys troubled me at times and I could walk only a short distance.

"I saw your advertisement in a paper and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I was helped from the first. At the end of two months the swelling had gone down, I was relieved of pain, and could walk with ease. I continued with the medicine and now I do almost all my housework. I know your medicine has saved me from the grave and I am willing for you to publish anything I write to you, for the good of others."—Mrs. ESTELLA GILLISPIE, R.F.D. No. 4, Box 34, St. Anne, Illinois.

WHAT EXPECTED FROM RAILROADS

late Officers Believe They Will Resist in Court the Increased Assessments

THE C. & O. IS BELLIGERENT

Today's Louisville Post.
Colonel Henry L. Stone, general council for the Louisville & Nashville road, returned to Louisville from Vegetation, Mich., rather unexpectedly Monday evening, and, as has been understood that he would not be home until September 16th, this fact gave rise to a report that a suit by the L. & N. is near at hand to repeal the increase of State taxes upon the L. & N.

Although Colonel Stone maintains reticence as to the probable action of the L. & N. the prevailing belief among State officers, many of whom are in Louisville attending the State Fair, is that litigation is to follow.
The increase upon the franchise assessments of the L. & N. was from $11,000,000 to $15,000,000, the assessment being more than quadrupled.
Litigation upon the part of the L. & N. is imminent is made more probable by the news that has reached Frankfort and Louisville that Mr.

Garrett H. Wall of Maysville, attorney for the C. & O. railroad, has stated to several gentlemen that that railroad will resist the increase upon that corporation which was from $2,000,000
to $18,000,000.

In the event these suits are filed
the railroads will set out many technical and legal points, and will also,
it is believed, contend that the state
was in such urgent need of money that it simply increased these assessments without being able to justify them.

If suits are filed, all the railroads that contest will agree to pay to the State upon the assessment of 1911,
and will contest only the increase which will amount to from $200,000
to $500,000 in money, depending upon the number of corporations that decide to fight. While such partial payments will assist the congested situation at Frankfort, the money for Confederate pensions will not be at hand, and there will be an instant revival of the talk of an extra session of the Legislature.

These suits could hardly be settled by the Supreme Court of the United States before the close of Gov. Mc-Creary's administration, or three years
hence. Those in a position to know assert that Gov. McCreary will not permit the state to drag along in such a doubtful condition as to its finances,
and that the filing of suits to prevent the collection of these taxes will almost certainly result in a call for an extra session of the Legislature some time following the November election.

"THE SCUM OF THE EARTH"

THE PRESIDENT SIGNED MOST WILLINGLY

The industrious circulation of the falsehood that President Taft threatened a veto of the Sulloway bill was one of the chief plays of his opponents and worked some injury to his popularity, as his adversaries had planned. That there was no truth in this every senator, representative and other public man could have known if he cared to inquire. "Yet it was a good enough Morgan till after the nomination."

Now these same men are with equal industry and untruth circulating the report that President Taft signed the act of May 11 most unwillingly and was only coerced into it at the last moment. Nothing could be more untrue.

There had been an overwhelming popular demand for additional pension legislation. The people were most earnest in their wish that the veterans who had saved the nation should be properly cared for during the years that remained to them. The national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic had asked for such legislation. The remarkable fact of the endorsement of the Sulloway bill by the legislatures of twenty-seven states was an astounding development of depth and wide extended feeling on the subject.

Could any president be expected to disregard such a manifestation? Certainly not William H. Taft, whose great heart has always appreciated the service of the veterans and who has ever been quickly responsive to the popular will.

No one doubted at the beginning of congress that he intended to approve a pension bill. This knowledge had to be used with the utmost discretion, however. The presidential campaign was opening. There was a general expectation that the Democrats would make a strong effort to "put the president and the senate in a hole" on the pension question. The fear was not allayed until within a few days of the passage of the act of May 11. This required the greatest circumspection on the part of the president and his friends. But as soon as the act of May 11 began to take shape in the senate and months before it actually passed there was no real doubt that the president would sign the bill which would be finally formulated.

At the invitation of senators I was a constant visitor to the capitol while the bill was going through its various stages. I was also made a means of communication with the members of the invalid pension committee of the house. With me went most frequently Past Commander in Chief John R.
King, less frequently Past Commander Slaybaugh of Potomac, Commander
E. S. Godfrey, Arizona; Commander Granville C. Pike, Massachusetts; Commander N. H. Kingston, South Dakota; Commander N. P. Kingsley, Pennsylvania, and other prominent comrades who happened to be in the city and whom the senators wanted to see and counsel with.

We met Senators Crane, McCumber, Curtis, Smoot, Burnham and others of the president's closest friends and advisers. They were confident in their assurances that the president would sign the bill. The comrades named felt no doubt of the result at least two months before the bill was signed.

As we all know, President Taft put himself to great personal inconvenience in order to sign the bill and let it begin at once its beneficence to the veterans.
The bill was not ready for his signature when he left for Princeton, N. J. He made the journey back to Washington expressly to sign the bill. He reached the White House a little before 11 p. m., Saturday, May 11, asked his signature seven minutes before midnight and had to leave Washington again the next day. Of these facts I was personally cognizant, as I was present when the bill was signed.

JOHN McLEROY,
Editor National Tribune.

I fully concur in the foregoing.
There is absolutely no truth in the statement that the president was opposed to any pension bill. On the contrary, we were assured, as stated above, that he would give his approval to the bill when finally passed, which was evidenced by his hasty return to Washington for the purpose.

WILSON WOULD REPEAL ALL PROTECTIVE TARIFF LAWS.

The following is taken from an address delivered by Professor Woodrow Wilson before the tariff board in 1882, showing his view then on the question of the tariff and his position as a free trader, opposed to all tariffs except merely for the purpose of raising revenue:

"But the danger of imposing protective duties is that when the policy is once embarked upon it cannot be easily receded from. Protection is nothing more than a bounty, and when we offer bounties to manufacturers they will enter into industries and build up interests and when at a later day we seek to overthrow this protective tariff we must hurt somebody and of course there is objection. They will say, 'Thousands of men will be thrown out of employment and hundreds of people will lose their capital.' This seems very plausible; but I maintain that manufacturers are made better manufacturers whenever they are thrown upon their own resources and left to the natural competition of trade."

"Protection also hinders commerce immensely. The English people do not send as many goods to this country as they would if the duties were not so much and in that way there is a restriction of commerce and we are building up manufacturers here at the expense of commerce. We are holding ourselves aloof from foreign countries in effect and saying, 'We are sufficient to ourselves; we wish to trade, not with England, but with each other.' I maintain that it is not only a pernicious system, but a corrupt system."

"By Commissioner Garland: 'Q. Are you advocating the repeal of all tariff laws?'

"A. Of all protective tariff laws; of establishing a tariff for revenue merely. It seems to me very absurd to maintain that we shall have free trade between different portions of this country and at the same time shut ourselves out from free communication with other producing countries of the world. If it is necessary to impose restrictive duties on goods brought from abroad it would seem to me as a matter of logic, necessary to impose similar restrictions on goods taken from one state to this Union to another. That follows as a necessary consequence; there is no escape from it."

PITCHER WEILMAN

Maysville Recruit Does Fancy Work For St. Louis Browns

What Detroit Fans Say of the Tall Wonder

Detroit, Mich., Dispatch to St. Louis Post-Dispatch September 9th.

He measures only 6 feet 5½ inches in his stocking feet, but he looked to be 9 feet tall to the Tigers until Ty Cobb cut him down in the seventh inning of that final farewell for the Browns on Navio Field yesterday. His name is Wellman and he is the St. Louis pitcher recruit from Maysville in the Blue Grass League.

Never since the days of Cy Falkenberg was there such a correct imitation of the importance of altitude given on the local baseball amusement company's property as that furnished by Wellman yesterday.

This Wellman is some pitcher. He had the Tigers' number and held them to few enough hits—seven for the day. Had he been facing a team with anything but Ty Cobb to break up the game there is little doubt but that he would have won.

HOW IT HAPPENED

Just as an example of the use to which the men from Maysville put his immense stature, take that fourth inning. The Tigers would have attributed the game sure as shooting in this round if it had not been for the ability of the pitcher to shove one hand up into the clouds and pull down the tallest of the skyscrapers in that inning, O'Mara, the Tiger youngster from St. Louis, drove a grounder to Wellman and did with little agony. Then Corridor slammed another at the burler. With ninety-nine pitches in a hundred it would have been a bit. With Warburton and Eddie Ciolek in the box the pitcher would have needed a field glass to get a glimpse or the ball. But Wellman extended himself over nine feet in the air straight above mother earth and pulled down the high boulder easily.

It took Cobb and all his quickness in taking advantage of the break that came his way to defeat Wellman finally. Ty had been unable to get a bit up to the seventh inning. He led off then. He swung at one ball, a curve that just missed the end of his bat. He was desperate. His feeling showed up his face. He thought to try the best game. But the ball dropped below his bat and Ty cursed. His final whack clipped the pellet toward Brown in left. That man tried to rob Ty of a bit by a great running catch. The only objection to the play was that he did not reach the ball and it bonked to the fence, while Cobb raced to the third bag, getting that base on a legitimate single.

A pass ball let loose by Wellman allowed him to score the winning run. Score, 2 to 1.

The gorge marks 149 and falling.

The Joseph D. Wellman has over thirty boats in tow and is expected to reach New Orleans the early part of next week.

Owing to the dense fog that covers the river for about nine hours every day, it is impossible to make a statement of how the boats are running.

The Postal Telegraph Company is working with a cable in the river. They are using a barge in their effort to stretch the cable.—Portsmouth Blade.

Work on the dams that are being built by the Government was suspended for the sixth time recently, due to high water, according to newspaper dispatches from New Orleans. Not only was the work interrupted, but in some instances damage also was caused.

Rubber Tires?

No! They are a little out of our line of business; but we have almost everything else made of rubber.

Syringes, Water Bottles, Atomizers, Ice Bags, Bandages, Bathing Caps, Cushions, Combs, Brushes, Sheeting, Tubing, Finger Cots, Nursery Supplies.

Ark Steel Tube Bed
SQUARE TUBING

Price $

Do you see how the square cross-roads at top of head and foot justify this bed? Imagine this design with round tubing in those positions. Would not the result be "ordinary" and monotonous? It is just such details of clever and artistic designing that have made our steel beds so popular. And the very large corner posts with brass caps all combine to make this an unusually artistic bed.

Moreover this bed is as good as it looks. Because it is made of drawn steel tubing, very light in weight—extremely strong.

A child can move this bed with the greatest ease. Come in and see this bed. Then you will realize how good it is.
